

Buy American Mention of the Week

New Buy American book just in time for Christmas!

By Roger Simmermaker

November 17, 2012

If you are looking for a truly unique Christmas gift, you're an advocate of Buy American, and you want to help others buy American at the same time, then you'll want to consider pre-ordering My Company 'Tis of Thee: 50 Patriotic American Companies American Consumers Should Know About. My Company 'Tis of Thee is my fourth book on Buying American since 1996, and features two-page write-ups about patriotic American-owned companies that maintain a majority of their production in the United States and have demonstrated the desire to swim upstream against the tide of ever-increasing imports among competitors in their industry. Additionally, four American-owned companies that most consumers already know about, but should really know more about, are also featured (so there are really 54 companies profiled in total). If you pre-order today, by this time next month, the new book will be printed and if not already in your mailbox, will be in the mail to you wherever you happen to be. If you pre-order right now ($12.95 per copy) you'll get free shipping. And, you can even add the third edition of my book How Americans Can Buy American for just $5.00 more (free shipping included). Never before has it been so easy and so inexpensive to get a unique Christmas gift that can have such an important impact on our economy at a time when Americans realize that creating American jobs is our nation's number one priority. Here's what President Bill Clinton has said about my forthcoming book My Company 'Tis of Thee:

America has always been a country of entrepreneurs, builders, and creators. As we work to restore our economy, it is important to stand behind the American companies that make good products, maximize U.S. employment, and earn the loyalty of their workers and the communities of which they're a part. Roger Simmermaker introduces to us fifty companies doing just that, and explains how we can all be part of a strong national recovery.

Many will recall that President Clinton pushed NAFTA and other legislation that Buy American advocates were not particularly fond of, but in his recent writings, speeches, and especially in his latest book Back To Work, it is clear that he now strongly supports Buy American policies and legislation. Conservatives will recall that Pat Buchanan was once an ardent supporter of free trade, but became a strong Buy American advocate eventually as well. In any case, both men have endorsed books I've written, and I'm proud to have endorsements from both, which is an indication of just how bi-partisan the Buy American issue really is. Whether you're conservative or liberal, lean to the left or to the right, are moderate or independent, the bottom line is that America will be better off when we support the companies featured in My Company 'Tis of Thee: 50 Patriotic American Companies American Consumers Should Know About. Every purchase that we make produces paychecks for people. By patronizing the companies profiled in My Company 'Tis of Thee, we can ensure that more of those paychecks will go to We the People. Get your unique Christmas gift today here for just \$12.95 so that more Americans can help keep jobs, profits, and tax revenue within our national borders. Order today!
